Hull's Vapor Stoves.—Many are the devices patented within the last few years for cooking and heating with petroleum, but very few, so far, have proved a success. Coal oil stoves have been put forth by the thousand, but for various reasons many people have beeome disgusted with them and are anxiously looking around for something better. Hull's Vapor Stoves have been in use five years, and not a single person has yet been found who is dissatisfied with their use. The longer people use them the more they like them, and the less they are willing to do without them. The Hull Stove is constructed on purely scientific principles, and readily converts the gasoline into hydrogen gas, which being mixed with the oxygen of the air burns a blue flame without any smoke or smell. This stove, for eafety, beauty and real utility, has no equal in the world, Ladies who use these stoves are rapturous over the result. It does away with the great discomfort—smudge and oppressive heat—of a common cook stove. It avoids that abominable nuisance they all dread and hate so much—building a fire in the ordinary cook stove. It saves them half the labor in getting meals, and will do all the cooking, baking, washing and ironing that can be done on any other stove. Sold by J. O. Payne, No. 1418 Market street. Western Union was in good demand on an increase in the earnings of $41,000 for the first two weeks of May, and Granger shares were strong, because of the enormous receipts of grain at Chicago. The sudden advance in Illinois Central was caused by a rise in the stock at London. Wabash and Ohios were the only weak spots of the market.
